Dairy Farm is a medium sized family farm located in southwest Wisconsin.

They milk approx. 300 cows and raise all of their young stock, and grow all of their own crops including hay, and corn. All of their crops are grown to feed the animals.

There is the opportunity to learn about AI breeding, herd health, animal reproduction, and caring for the young stock. They strive to produce a safe and healthy product on their farm while being animal and people friendly. They love to care for the calves and milk the cows at their farm also.

Their personal interests are camping, attending local fairs in the summer, tractor pulling and spending time with family and friends.
