

Beef & crop internship in the USA available

The Ranch is a large family beef and crops operation in mid-southwest North Dakota.

They are an extensive farming operation, which includes a cow-calf operation, calf backgrounding feedlot, and cropping enterprises. They own 1,200 head of Angus/Black Simmental beef cattle and grow crops such as wheat, corn, barley, peas, and alfalfa. They also operate a 4,000 head calf backgrounding feedlot.

There is the opportunity to learn about their Embryo Transplant Program, AI breeding, nutrition, herd health, and crop phases. They have strived to improve their farming and ranching techniques to become more efficient and effective, and to leave the land in better condition than previous years.

Their personal interests include spending time with family and friends at the lake and attending local events and gatherings throughout the year.
